CONOPUS CLUB MEETING

At the meeting of the Conopus club held on Monday, the committee on good roads of which H. H. Redfield is chairman, reported that they had raised over $2,000 for the re-surfacing of the road leading out of Bradford, toward Smethport.

The plan of the committee was to ask each owner of a car to subscribe an amount equal to the cost of his auto license. Many have subscribed a sum much in excess of this amount and some have subscribed who did not own a car.

Our informant tells us that this was about all the important business transacted at this meeting except that a very nice chicken dinner was served.

The state Highway Department had agreed to do the necessary work on this trivial if the sum of $25,000 was given them, by the people who would be most benefited. Bradford had already raised $15,000 leaving Smethport to raise the balance of $5,000.

G. A. R. VETS IN SESSION.

The G. A. R. held their annual convention at Allegany last week. The attendance was large. The only important business seems to have been the election of officers. The next meeting will be held in greensburg.

THREE DAY MEET.

The American Legion of McKean county will hold their annual county convention at Port Allegany on July 2-3. Athletic games and contests will be the feature of the meet.

DANCING CLASS.

The last meeting of Mrs. Miles Johnston's dancing class of Bradford was held Saturday p. m. About thirty young people gathered in Court's hall and made merry while dancing the "Paul Jones", the Virginia Reel" and also the more modern dances. Every one was dismissing and confetti liberally scattered on everyone. Mrs. Johnston has had a very successful class. It is to be hoped she will organize another one in the fall.

NOTICE.

The Daughters of the American Revolution will serve ice cream Saturday evening, June 17th, on the court house lawn. There will be a band concert the same evening.

M. E. CHURCH.

Norwich School Houses Painted.

The School Board of Norwich Township has decided to paint and beautify the Crosby school, the Betula and the Colegrove school houses. These houses are to be painted and beautified inside as well as out and will be so nice that even habitual hookey players will rather stay in school than go fishing.

Bids are asked for in this issue of the Miner.

TAX APPEALS HELD.

Appeals from Mercantile Tax assessed by R. J. Chrisman, Mercantile appraisers, were held at the Court House last Friday. The attendance was very light, which would indicate that Mr. Chrisman's work was very satisfactorily performed.

THE WORLD'S OIL.

A well flowing 261,000 barrels of oil a day is drilled in down in Mexico. One day the experts warn the world of an approaching exhaustion of oil. Next day a wildcat gusher or a new field was brought in. The world's oil resources probably haven't been more than scratched. One well in Persia has produced 26,000,000 barrels of oil in ten years, and still yields 13,000 barrels a day. The fields of South American are yet to be tested out, and it is probable that there will be oceans of oil uncovered there in the future.

BOROUGH ELECTION.

On Wednesday an election was held for the purpose of bonding the city to procure the necessary funds to pave Mechanic street from Main and also other streets in the boro.

The business men of the town had donated the sum of $12,000 with the understanding that the borough would raise $3000.

It was though there could be no opposition to this proposition and the vote shows that this was correct, the vote being 236 votes in favor of the proposition and but six against it.

This vote was but a percentage of the total vote of this borough, yet it shows practically a unanimous sentiment in favor of doing the work, and passing the cost on to future generations after deducting the donations of the business people.

GYPSY BAND ORDERED TO LEAVE TOWN.

Evidently the gypsies who were put out of town a few Sundays ago by the Bradford police did not mark on an outside gate post (as tramps mark a house) to warn other bands of travelers to avoid the town, for another gang arrived Monday morning, as bold as possible, but they did not get very far nor while they were still in East Bradford "scrounging money" and doing their specialities from house to house the police received a telephone call and were soon on the job.

They rounded up the bunch, following them to a number of East End homes and taking them into custody, then had them get in their cars and leave the state, via Tuna. This band had four automobiles.

East Bradford residents report that the women were very busy peddling around among the houses and at one of the stops one of the gypsies attempted to get some money, by fair means or foul. The police did well in chasing them out of the city before they wrought any great damage.

GEO. W. RICE PASSED AWAY.

Geo. W. Rice passed away at his farm home about six miles East of town on the Coryville road early Friday morning.

Death was caused by complications arising from an accident which resulted in a broken hip.

He was 81 years, 10 months and 17 days.

100 years ago this month his father, Wm. Rice, then a boy of 18 years, came from Courtland Conn.y, N. Y., to McKean County.

Geo. W. Rice, eldest son of Wm. and Betsy Rice, was born and spent his entire life in Keating Township, McKean County.

He leaves to mourn his death a wife, five children, twenty grandchildren, two great grand children, three brothers and one sister.

Funeral services were held at the house, Sunday, p. m. at one o'clock. Burial at Smith Cemetery.

A VIOLENT STORM.

On Saturday afternoon a storm passed over this section, and, in fact, it seemed to be general, all over the country.

The electrical storm was very vivid and in places did much damage as will be noted in other columns. Cows were killed in the field, houses were struck, and other damage done, in Warren and at other places oil tanks were struck and their contents burned.

In Bradford in addition to damage from the lightning, the water overflowed the streets, filled the cellars, and did other damage. In Olean a similar condition existed, but the sewer carried the water off quicker.

Salamanca and other cities there was a lot of damage as well as destruction of property. In the New York, it is said over 50 lives were lost from the flood.

The damage to crops could not be estimated as whole districts were washed out.

STUDEBAKER CAR DITCHED.

A Studebaker car, owned by E. T. Sundstrom of Port Allegany ran into a ditch at King's Corners near East Smethport last Thursday evening. The car presented a very dismal appearance when brought to the Smethport garage, one spring being broken, running board badly splintered, and fenders badly warped were the most of the visible signs of the disaster.

BOY INJURED WHILE TRYING TO BOARD CAR

An unfortunate accident occurred Sunday night in which Paul Meaney the 14-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Meaney of No. 13 Mill street Bradford, suffered severe injuries.

County Detective Allison and Chief of Police Sok made an investigation Tuesday and found that the Meaney Boy was attempting to board a trolly car which was northbound on East Main street, when he was injured. An eye witness told the officials that the lad was trying to get on a moving car from the left hand side, the side on which the doors are closed. He got upon the step and the car was going so fast that he fell with great force to the pavement. A man in an automobile saw the entire accident and picked up the boy and hurried him to the hospital.

Dr. Paton attended the lad and found that no bones were broken. He was unconscious, however, and remained so all night.

CHATAUQUA AT CROSBY

A Chatauqua will be held at Crosby on July 6, 7, and 8th. It was undecided until yesterday whether this would be held at Crosby or Betula, but it was finally decided in favor of Crosby.

Who can truly pay tribute to the beauty of her character. Adorned with Christian grace, she adorned many works of helpfulness to which her sweet womanliness led her. Active in her church life from her earliest days, she drank deep of the spirit of the Master and many works church and philanthropic in her home town of Coryville, will miss her active, self-forgetting service and consecrated Christian womanhood.

Her life was lived on the high level of love and service for others, with a sweet graciousness that endeared her to all. To those that knew and loved her she will yet continue to be an inspiration to do and be the best, and the Lord she loved and tributed will comfort and bless them.

The singing was by her loved Cousins.

Who in the Cross of Jesus Trust,
But fall asleep? they cannot die:
And while we mourn above the dust
They dwell with Thee, dear lord on High.

Thine own presence grant them rest,
And from the Radiance of Thy throne,
Shine on them Lord, and make them blest;
For Thou best claimed them for thine own."

A BALL GAME.

A game of ball was played here on Sunday afternoon between Smethport and Port Allegany which was some game, and which was well attended and was marked with thrills throughout. The score stood 2 to 1 in favor of the visitors. Through the oversight of the recording secretary, no doubt, the score failed to find its way to this office, and we are without further particulars. A return game will be played at Port Allegany next Sunday.

HOUSE STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

During the heavy electric storm which passed over this section on Saturday, lightning struck the house of Mrs. May Keenon, about two miles west of the Borough.

The house, a twelve room one, is almost a complete wreck. The chimney in the center of the house was thrown all over the house and torn down to its base; the roof was torn off, rafters splintered, floors were torn up and plastering hanging by one end of the lath in some of the rooms. Pictures were torn from the walls, tables overturned and other pranks played.

Mr. Irons was engaged in putting up a screen door, and was shocked by the concussion and the lower end of the door torn into broom splints. The siding or weather boards of the house were bursted out and splintered in some places.

Mrs. Keenan was inside the house but escaped unharmed. She had a number of canary birds in cages in one room, all singing, which she had for sale, and strange to say, although part of the flooring was torn up, the birds were unharmed.

Another prank of the electrical fluid which is hard to account for is that the lightning bored its way out of the building at the north corner of the kitchen, followed along the weather boards to near the south corner where there were some vines growing, the stock being an inch in diameter, was cut off in two places, leaving a six inch piece out of the vine.

The paper on the wall was torn off in every room in the house and even did not forget Mrs. Keenan's clothes press.

The house is insured in the agency of C. A. Burdick and they hope for an early adjustment.

ADA LEMMLER DEAD.

Died at Her Home, Last Friday After a Long Illness.

Miss Ada B. Lemmler, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Lemmler, died at her home on Edson street, at 5:50 o'clock, last Friday afternoon, after a long illness, of a complication of diseases from which the patient had been confined to her home for several years.

Ada Lemmler was born in Holland, N. Y., on March 15, 1877. At the age of seven, her parents moved to Eldred where she grew to womanhood, enjoying the friendship and esteem of a large concourse of friends with whom she had been associated for so many years.

In 1892 she graduated from the Eldred High School, after which she took up a business course and followed it up until about three years ago, when her health failed and she was compelled to join the great army of shut-ins. From that time until death summoned her, she bore her affliction with great fortitude and busied herself with home work as much as her health would permit.

She leaves to mourn her death her parents, three sisters, Mrs. Charles Cheeseman, of New York City; Mrs. J. L. Llewellyn, of Eldred; and Miss Hazel Lemmle, of Akron, O. and one brother, Lloyd, of Bradford, all of whom were present at the funeral, which was held from the house at 2:30 o'clock, Monday afternoon, Rev. E. J. Burston officiating and interment was made in Oak Hill.

Miss Lemmler was a member of the Protected Home Circle.

Mr. and Mrs Charles Lemmler of this place attended the funeral. They were uncle and aunt of the deceased.

TRIPLETS GRADUATED.

McKean county people will be interested to know that Laura, Louise and Lillian Buissett, triplets who were born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Buisert in 1903 when they resided in Eldred, were graduated from the Punxsutawney High school and their pictures appeared recently in a Philadelphia newspaper.

THREE HURT ON THE STATE HIGHWAY.

About 2 o'clock Saturday an automobile collision occurred on the state road a short distance from the Greendale school house, that bruised and cut Mrs. G. W. Blossard, of Clermont, about the head and face, and also injured Andrew Wilkinson of Kane.

The account of the accident gleaned on the spot is to the effect that the two cars were proceeding toward Mt. Jewett when a new Buick owned and driven by J. M. Judy of Huefner, Pa., with Andrew Wilkinson of Kane, as a passenger, attempted to pass an Oakland driven by G. W. Blossard of Clermont, also occupied by his wife and four children. It is understood that the Buick cut in too close and locked wheels with the Oakland and both cars left the road strewing the occupants about promiscuously. The Buick struck a tree and is almost a total wreck with the front demolished and the frame broken. The Oakland hit a gas meter house and is considerably damaged although not to the extent of the other car.

SHOWER DAMPENED SPIRIT.

Caught in a heavy downpour of rain early Saturday, three Olean boys all 12 years old, gave up their proposed tour of adventure and returned home. The police, notified by the anxious parents, failed to find the lads in or near the city. The boys told they were on a country road when caught in the shower. Their "game" was called on account of rain, they said.

A SUDDEN DEATH.

The community was shocked Thursday morning to learn of the sudden death of John Nagely of heart failure at Ralston, Pa. Mr. Nagely had not been in good health for some time, but was not considered seriously ill, and had started on his trip Monday morning to visit a number of tanneries under his supervision. Early this morning he was found dead in his room at Ralston.

He was active in all cummunity affairs, and served a number of years upon the borough council. He was a member of Liberty Lodge and Arnold Chapter F. & A. M. and of the Consistory at Coudersport. He was also a member of the I. O. O. F. He was one of the leading members of the Methodist Church and president of the official board of that church. He had also served as Sunday School Superintendent a number of years, and as teacher in the Sunday School. He had hosts of friends who liked him and respected him for his many good qualities and he will be greatly missed by the entire community in Port Allegany.

TANK CAR CO. PLANT BURNS,—LOSS $75,000.

New Buildings at Warren Destroyed Cause Not Known.

Warren, Pa., June 12.—The plant of the Warren Tank Car company at Star Brick was destroyed by fire late Saturday afternoon with a loss of about $75,000. The entire plant was burned by the flames which originated from some unknown cause and the Warren fire department which was summoned gave what aid was possible but not being equipped with a pump could only use chemicals.

SUDDEN SUMMONS.

Bert L. Ozman Drops Dead at Coleville Plant

Bert L. Ozman, an employee of the Stroud Gasoline company, dropped dead near the company's plant at Coleville shortly after 5 o'clock Monday afternoon. Heart disease is believed to have been the cause of death. Mr. Ozman was stricken just after finishing work for the day, while he was on his way to the store.

Fellow workman working at the Stroud plant saw Mr. Ozman fall and hurried to his aid, but the stricken man was dead when they reached him. The body was taken to the chapel of Koch and Oxley in Bradford.

An identification card in the dead man's pocket named Frank De Shields of Oakdale, Pa., as the person to be notified in case of emergency. Word was sent to Mr. De Shields, but no answer had been received at a late hour last night.

Mr. Ozman was about 55 years old. He is believed to have relatives in Pittsburgh, with whom his employer, Mr. Stroud, is endeavoring to get into communication.

SHIPS JARS ABROAD.

Betula Concern Sends Its Products Over Seas.

J. C. McLean, local representative of the Sager Jar company of Betula informs the Miner that his company has shipped its first overseas order, of gross vacuum fruit jars, to be used for demonstration purposes at the Royal Fair in London, next month. The company also has received an order for 30,000 vacuum jars from the Village Supplies Company Limited, of London.

Work on the new plant at Betula is progressing rapidly, and it is expected to be ready within 60 days. Forty dwellings for operatives are nearing completion.

TAKING SHORT FISH.

It is reported that up Norwich way that some person or persons to us unknown, are taking trout from the streams that are undersized and also that some, probably the same parties, are exceeding the limit. Say you, we want to say to you that you should know that you can't keep this up without being found out. If you think so that is where you have another guess coming. Already people suspect you, and when you are exposed you will feel as others point their fingers at at you, smaller than the smallest fish you ever caught. We cannot imagine what fun there is in fishing for little fish with a burden on your conscience bigger than a ton of hay, and when the game warden does get you, think how your family will feel as others point the finger of scorn at you. Resolve to cut it out from now on and live an honest life and people will respect you.

BOY KNOCKED DOWN BY AUTO AT PORT ALLEGANY.

What may turn out to be the most serious accident which has occured in Port Allegany in many months happened here on Thursday at about 8 o'clock, when a car driven by William Painter, struck and knocked down Wayne Scherer, 9 year-old son of Chester Scherer of Philadelphia, in front of the Sartwell apartment house on Mill street. The boy was picked up and taken to the McGrader Hospital by Mr. Painter. Dr. McGranor stated a few minutes later that the boy complained of pains in his side, and might be internally injured.

Wayne was playing with other children, and was crossing Mill St. to get to the coal when he was hit by Painter's car.

Wayne has been visiting at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scherer, who live in the Sartwell apartment building. Neither his father nor his mother were in town at the time of the accident.

A marriage license was granted, at Coudersport, the past week to Calvan O. Daughenbaugh, of Hazelhurst, and Katherine M. Hoffman, of Kane. Justice of the Peace Wandall performed the ceremony that made them one.

COUNTY COMMITTEE MEETS.

The members of the Republican County Committee met in Kane on Friday, and as soon as the committee on Credentials had reported, proceeded to elect a County Chairman.

Henry Cohn of Bradford presented the name of G. Scott Smith of Kane as a candidate to succeed himself, and Dr. Menske of Bradford presented the name of S. D. Weaver of Bradford, and a ballot resulted in G. Scott Smith receiving 29 votes and S. D. Weaver 15 votes. Mr. Weaver then moved to make the election of Mr. Smith unanimous.

The committee on resolutions then presented the following which were adopted:

The Republican party, born through the necessity of an impending Civil War, and which carried the process of reconstruction following that internal conflict, is bringing about in the shortest possible period a normal condition, following the great world's conflict, which presented to the administration of Warren G. Harding trials and difficulties which seemed almost insurmountable. Although this administration has been criticized for the so-called hard times, it has by careful management and prudent judgment brought us to the eve of a period of prosperity such as this country has never before seen.

Be it resolved:

(1) That at this moment, when everything is looking toward an era of prosperity, we ourselves do the utmost to advance the principles of Republicanism and to support the Republican nominees for National and State offices.

(2) As the executive of this great Commonwealth we present a man of approved ability and integrity, a friend, follower and associate of the immortal Roosevelt—Honor Gifford Pinchot, of Pike County. His election insures the Commonwealth a businesslike administration and despite the strenuousness of the recent primary campaign, his election assures a party unity.

For the high office of United States Senator every Republican can feel justly proud of the candidates, Gen. Wm. Wilson Pepper and David A. Reed. Both brilliant lawyers, born statesmen who will fill with credit the places of Honorable Boies Penrose and Philander C. Knox, whose deaths we deplore. For Lieutenant Governor, Colonel David J. Davis, of Lackawanna, a world war veteran, and for Secretary of Internal Affairs James Woodward, of Allegheny County, the Republican party presents two candidates who have demonstrated their ability as leaders.

(3) The victory of the state ticket in November will fall short of Republican triumph unless we elect a Republican Congressman, and never was there a time when it was so important that a Republican majority in the lower house be maintained. To that end we present the Honorable William J. Swoope, of Clearfield County, who is at present a Deputy Attorney General. Mr. Swoope's experience will qualify him to succeed Honorable Evan J. Jones who has made an enviable record for himself as a representative from this district.

4. In the candidacy of Oscar E. Gustafson, of Wetmore township, candidate for the legislature, the southern section of McKean county, for the first time in twenty years, will be represented in the lower state house. Mr. Gustafson is a young man well equipped to shoulder the responsibilities of the office, which until the recent apportionment was so efficiently done by representatives Catlin and Fitzgibbon. We warmly endorses his candidacy and strongly urge upon the voters the necessity of having McKean county represented in the Assembly by a Republican of Mr. Gustafson's type—young, energetic and worthy of support.

BAKER STATE CHAIRMAN.

At the session of the Republican State Committee, H. Harry Baker was elected chairman by a vote of 81 to 32, over Gen. Asher Miner of Wilkesbarre. The later was the choice of the Gubernatorial candidate, Gifford Pinchot, while Baker was the choice of the Senatorial nominees.

Senator Pepper was named National committeeman by acclamation. He was averse to accepting the place but finally yielded to the voice of his friends. He succeeded Hon. Boies Penrose deceased.

UNEMPLOYMENT ENDED.

Daily our exchanges are announcing that the army of the unemployed is being disbanded, and the industrial army is being recruited from its ranks.

Last week the unemployed in Pennsylvania excepting the striking coal miners, was but a few thousand and that many factories and manufacturing plants are now running with a full complement of men.

Locally we find that about the same conditions exist. Factories are started and the increased price of oil has had the effect of stimulating the market, and it is probably that additional drilling will be done in the near future.

BUILDING TO BE DONE.

This year will witness much new building being done in Smethport, unless some one throws the monkey wrench in the machinery.

The sound of the carpenter's hammer is heard almost all over our town in repair work.

In these columns recently we mentioned the new home of Francis Quirk which is now being pushed along.

The Gas and Water com[illegible] panies are figuring on the erection of an office building on the corner of Franklin and Main street to accommodate the Water company and the Gas company.

This is a very desirable location and, no doubt the building will be a credit to the location.

The F. & A. M. building on the lot adjoining the law office of T. H. Morrison, Esq., is in contemplation and, while there are yet, many matters of detail to be ironed out, we understand that everything now looks favorable for the execution of this building this summer.

The lot on the West side of the Masonic building was purchased some time ago by the Smethport Garage Company and it seems that building has been deferred from year to year and this building may be erected this year, although as yet it is undecided.

The Highway work up Marvin creek is progressing as rapidly as can be expected considering the weather.

The time of starting up the window glass plant is now a matter of but a few days, when employment will be given to many men.

Work on the Golf link, west of town has been going on for some time, although delayed by weather conditions.

The arrangement for the bottle plant now seems to be nearing the completion stage and ere long, it is expected, the carpenters and brick layers will be at work. All together not such a dreary outlook for Smethport, now is it?

OPENS STONE QUARRY.

One day last week half a dozen workmen began the removal of stone from the old quarry on F. G. Spink's farm at Tilden avenue and Higby lane from which was taken the stone used in erecting Grace and Calvary Episcopal churches, and which has been idle for 35 years.

A temporary stone crusher outfit is being placed at the quarry by Robert A. and William F. Ross of Copenhagen, better known, perhaps as Ross Brothers, road contractors who have taken over the only quarry within many miles of Utica, where building stone may be secured.

Mr. Ross declares that the location is an ideal one for a stone quarry, since it is the only adjacent to the city where a big market in building material is anticipated, but it is located in a hill which means a down grade haul in all directions.

The firm of Ross Bros. here spoken of is the one who had the contract of the State road from Fyrmes Valley, one of whom, Frank, lived in town during the construction of the road. The article is taken from the Utica Observer.

OIL AND GASOLINE DEMAND.

Enormous demand for gasoline, stiffended demand for fuel oil and lubricants, and nation-wide decrease in production of crude, oil, curtailment of Mexico oil imports and failure on increased production in such fields are the big contributing factors, and California to counter balance decreases elsewhere in the oil fields are the big contributing factors in the series of advances that have been occurring the past few weeks.

North Texas crude quotations were increased about two weeks ago. Premiums have been paid in a good many fields, including Texas, for several weeks.

Independent refiners in the east are in the aggregate more or less disinterested in the matter of crude prices, so long as western crude keeps pace with those in the east, compelling western refiners to put up their prices for finished products, and creating a situation which makes it possible for the eastern and western refiners to meet on approximately even grounds in competing for business.

Producer in the eastern fields are not excited by the advance of 25 cents and while oil sales will be stimulated among those who are unable to carry their stock, most producers are planning to hold on for a still higher market.

"She's going to 34" is the attitude of the average producer in this field. And conditions seem to justify this attitude.

After the gasoline, naptha, kerosene and paraffine have been taken form the Pennsylvania crude, there is still a big residue that is refined into high grade lubricants.

FIRST LILIES OF SEASON GATHERED AT ELDRED.

The first pond lilies of the season have been gathered by boys from the village, who have always found a ready market for them either at home or in the neighboring towns.

The beauty and fragrance of the white lily never fails to inspire the older citizens of the town to tell the story of the manner of the sowing of the first lily seed in the pond years ago by Mrs. Henry Bebout, a former resident of Eldred. While making a journey to Bradford on the old narrow gauge railroad, the the right of way of which ran through the swamp, Mrs. Bebout, as her train was crossing the trestle which spanned the Old Bayou, flung from the car window a handful of lily seed which grew and increased year after year until now there are acres of white lilies over in the Old Bayou.

Misfortune sit lightly upon the young, which may be the reason they are young.

AMERICAN LEGION DEDICATES NEW HALL.

The Lieutenant Raymond A. Nicholas Post No. 250 of the American Legion, at a meeting held on Tuesday night dedicated their new Hall.

Since its organization this Post has met in the I. O. O. F. building, and recently a committee was appointed to secure other quarters, which they did, taking the rooms over Monheimer's clothing store.

BOY WANTED.

He will be the only boy agent in this town for the famous MOVIN WEEKLY MAGAZIN. He will work after school and other spare time. His pay will be what he makes it, besides fine prizes and free Movie Tickets. When he makes good, he will be promoted. ATLAS
PORTLAND CEMENT
"The Standard by which all other Makes are measured"
PROBABLY the first place you ever noticed concrete was in concrete sidewalks. This was only about twenty-five years ago. Today hardly any other kind is built.
Concrete has proved its economy, its suitability, its permanence. Even though most of those first walks were built before concrete construction was properly understood, some of them are still giving good service.
Today your dealer is able to give you the same cement that has stood the test of over twenty-five years' use on all types of work. For more than a quarter century Atlas Portland Cement has been "the Standard by which all other makes are measured."

SIEGFRIED'S SWORD IN BERLIN

Weapon Had Long Been in German Capital, Though the Hero Was Really a Belgian.

The theft of the sword from the statue of Siegfried in Berlin raises the question, What has Berlin to do with Siegfried's sword or with Siegfried himself? That hero was no Prussian, but rather a Belgian—at any rate, a Netherlander—and it was a Burgundian princess that he married. In his day the Hohenzollern were an obscure tribe and scarcely heard of in Burgundy and along the Rhine.

Moreover the difference in character jars as it hopelessly incongruous for the Prussians of today to exploit Siegfried as one of their national heroes. Hagen of Tronje would be more fit chosen at the moment, when he treacherously murders Siegfried when he steals Kriemhilde's fortune or when he brutally slays the infant, Ortlieb. But Siegfried was honorable, Siegfried was brave, Siegfried was chivalric, Siegfried was not a Hohenzollern.

To exploit Siegfried and his Balmung as emblematic of Prussia, or indeed of the Germany of today, is gross impertinence perhaps. It is well that the sword is gone. The statue itself should follow it into retirement from a place where it does not belong.—New York Tribune.

Eddie Knew!

Eddie is a high school freshie. He is enthusiastic over sports, and, with his father, has witnessed practically all of the wrestling matches held recently in Indianapolis. His teacher had urged the pupils to attend at least one of the Shakespearean plays scheduled at a local theater, and finally asked whether any of the pupils had ever seen Robert Mantell.

"Yes," put in Eddie without a moment's hesitation, as he recalled the name of Al Mantell, a noted wrestler, "I saw him wrestle Jack Reynolds."

The sally was good for a big laugh at his expense.—Indianapolis News.

HELP WAS URGENTLY NEEDED

Darky Evidently Had Troubles of His Own With That "Possum" His Partner Shook Down.

Two negroes, Salvation Jones and King Agrippa Johnson, living near the Dismal swamp went possum hunting one dark night. A warm trail was struck, and the dogs soon "treed." Salvation, bein, the better climber, volunteered to go up and shake down the possum, whereupon King Agrippa made ready to catch it in the sack they took along for that purpose.

Instead of an opossum, the dogs had treed a wildcat. As Salvation made his way to the topmost branches the animal retreated still farther out on the overhanging limbs, and emitted an angry snarl.

"Huh? How's dat?" exclaimed Salvation. "Never heard no 'Possum talk lak dat befo'!"

"Go on, Salvation. Yo' ain't heern nothin' but de dogs. Shake him loose! I'se waitin'," urged King Agrippa.

Climbing a little farther out, Salvation gave the limb a mighty shake and dislodged the wildcat. Suddenly a chorus of yells, howls, screeches and cuss words broke loose from below.

"Hey, dar, King Agrippa!" anxiously called down Salvation. "Yo' want me fer come down an' help yo' fer him?"

"Naw, suh," yelled Agrippa. "Ah wants fer yo' come down an' help me fer turn him loose!"—Judge.

STRANGE MONSTER IN AFRICA

English Scientist Tells of Creature Which He Thinks May Have Been Giant Python.

F. C. Cornell, fellow of the Royal Geographical society, who recently returned to England after spending twenty years in practically unknown parts of South Africa, is author of a story about an unknown monster that had been seen near the Great falls of the Orange river. It has a huge head and a neck ten feet long like a bending tree. It seizes the native cattle and drags them under water. The natives call it "Kyiima," or the Great Thing. Last May Mr. Cornell, accompanied by two white companions, W. H. Brown and N. R. Way of Capetown, and three Hottentots, went to the junction of the Gub and Orange rivers to see the monster if possible. He writes: "At the cries of the natives I saw something black, huge, and shapeless swimming rapidly against the current in the swirling rapids. The monster kept its enormous body under water; but the neck was plainly visible. The monster may have been a very gigantic python, but if it was it was of an incredible size. This reptile may have lived for hundreds of years. Pythons approaching it in size have been said to have lived that long."

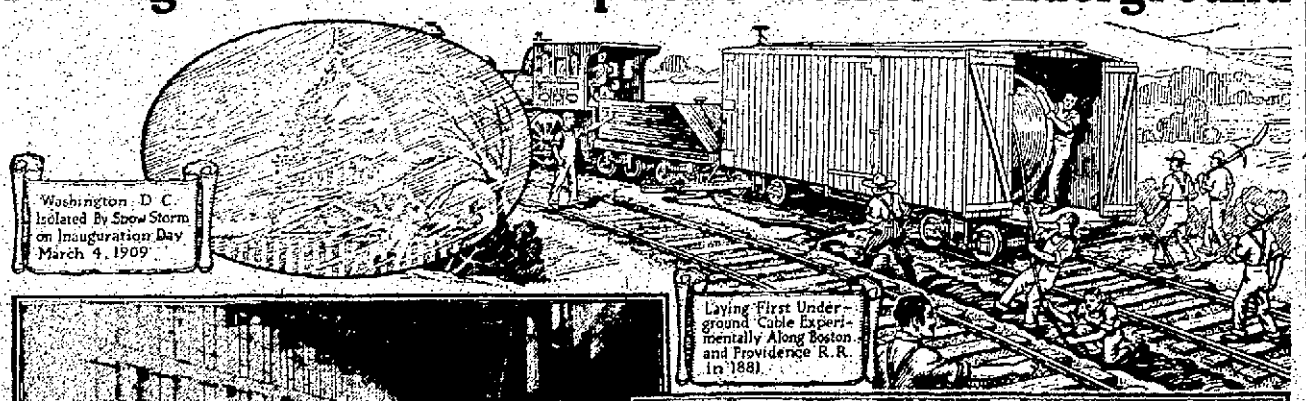
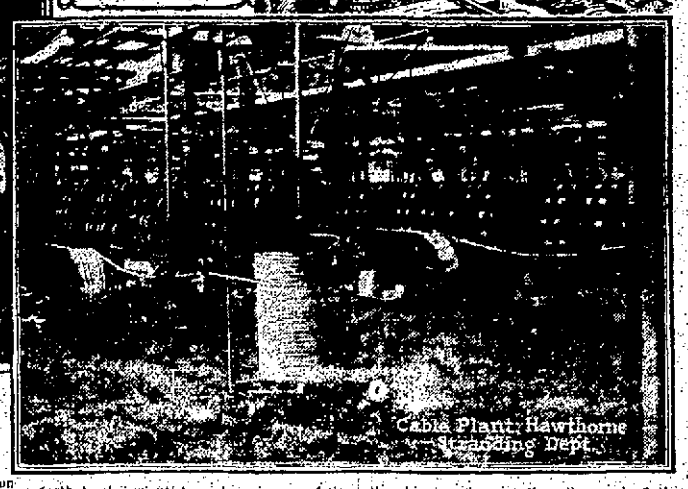
Putting the First Telephone Wires Underground



Washington D C. Isolated By Snow Storm on Inauguration Day March 4, 1909
Laying First Underground Cable Experimentally Along Boston and Providence R.R. in 1881.



Where the Modern Telephone Cables are Made

In the spring of 1881, Theodore N. Vail, then general manager of the American Bell Telephone Company, ordered that experiments be made in putting the telephone wires underground.

In consequence, on one April day a gang of telephone workmen assembled at Attleboro, Massachusetts, equipped to dig a trench and lay a cable along the tracks of the Boston and Providence Railroad to West Mansfield, a distance of five miles.

It soon became evident that it was quite a task to dig even a shallow trench and some bright fellow suggested hitching a plow to a locomotive. The scheme was adopted and worked well, although two plows were used up before the job was completed.

After the cable had been laid, the earth was put back by an equally clever expedient. A long joist was attached to the cow-catcher of the engine and the dirt swept back into the trench in a small fraction of the time it would have taken to shovel it back.

This was the first attempt to place telephone wires underground and, when tested, the transmission was good enough to encourage the telephone engineers to continue their experiments, so that in 1884 there were 1,225 miles of telephone wire underground and ten years after the first telephone cables were placed underground, over 70,000 miles of wire were in underground ducts.

The culminating achievement in the development of the underground system, the Boston and Washington subway, was also the result of Mr. Vail's initiative.

On March 3, 1909, on the eve of President Taft's inauguration, Washington was cut off from all communication with the rest of the country for several hours by a severe snow storm and blizzard which prostrated telephone and telegraph pole lines and blockaded the railroads. It was days before communication was completely re-established and the country relieved of the strain and anxiety due to the lack of news from the nation's capital.

To a man of President Vail's vision, such a situation was intolerable and he determined that telephone communication between the capital and the rest of the country should be placed beyond the reach of storm damage. Hence his message went forth to the scientists and engineers of the Bell System, to "put the wires underground."

In 1912, Washington and Philadelphia had been linked up and in 1913 the last gap in the underground system was filled between New Haven and Providence, and so great had been the advances in the art of loading and balancing underground circuits and so great the improvements in intermediate apparatus that satisfactory transmission was obtained between Boston and Washington, a distance of 450 miles. The great problem had been solved.

Constant improvements in the manufacture of telephone cables contributed to the result. The cable used by the Bell Telephone System is manufactured by the Western Electric Company at its great plant at Hawthorne, Ill.

The cable plant at Hawthorne is a model of manufacturing efficiency. Practically all the operations are conducted on the ground floor, the raw materials being delivered at one end of the building, over a spur track and the manufacturing processes bring the finished cable on reels to the shipping floor at the other end of the plant. The first operation is the insulation of the bare copper with paper. Then the insulated lengths of wire are twisted into pairs or quads, and these are then formed into the cable core, after which it is tested and put through a drying process. By means of an ingenious mechanism known as a lead press, the cable core is then covered with a continuous lead sheath. After the cable has cooled, it is given additional electrical tests and if found satisfactory, the ends are sealed to keep out moisture. The reel containing the cable is then made ready for shipment.

The big shops at Hawthorne, in one year, turned out 6,000 miles of cable, using nearly 2,000,000 miles of copper wire, 4,500 tons of insulating paper and 50,000 tons of lead.

Today, more than 63 per cent. of all the telephone wire in the Bell System, nearly 15,000,000 miles, is in underground conduits and the percentage of underground wire is constantly increasing. The underground conduits represent a cost of $135,700,000 and the cables in them, $202,500,000.
